

Amber Lynn Archibald is graduating with her BFA in Graphic Design and a Minor in Entrepreneurship. Amber grew up in St. George, UT where she discovered her love of all things art and design. That discovery led her to pursue an education in design at Utah State University. Her time at Utah State has been defined by her creativity, talent, drive, and passion that reflects in her commitment to her work and desire to always improve.

While attending USU, some of Amber's accomplishments have included Presidential Scholar, Caine Scholar, Distinguished Service Award Recipient, and A-Pin Award Recipient. She has also been involved with various organizations on campus as a graphic designer, including the USUSA PR and Marketing Office, the USU Office of Research, and the Athletics Department. Following the completion of her undergraduate studies, she seeks to pursue a career as a graphic designer in the professional workspace; with the intent to use design to inform and inspire.
